AECOM wins US$20-million contract for Ravensworth Mine expansion in Australia

LOS ANGELES (Aug. 30, 2011) — AECOM Technology Corporation (NYSE: ACM), a leading provider of professional technical and management support services for government and commercial clients around the world, announced today that it was awarded a US$20-million services contract for the construction of the US$1.4-billion Ravensworth North mine expansion project in New South Wales, Australia.

AECOM joins Xstrata Coal and Downer EDI in an alliance to deliver the project. The company will provide engineering, procurement and construction management services for the approximately US$200-million infrastructure component of the coal mine, located 12 miles west of Singleton.

"AECOM is excited about this major award that leverages our expertise in the mining sector," said John M. Dionisio, AECOM president and chief executive officer. "These are the type of project wins that highlight AECOM's diversified global business model – from a geographic as well as an end-market standpoint."

Xstrata Coal is due to start exporting shipments of thermal and semi-soft coking coal in 2012. The expansion is expected to extend mining at the site for another 26 years, create 250 new jobs during the construction phase and 550 jobs during ongoing operations.

Run of mine (ROM) production at the 4-million-ton-per-year, open-cut coal mine, constructed on land adjacent to the existing Ravensworth operations, will be increased to 12 million tons per annum and feature an open-cut pit, an augmented raw-coal system, expanded coal processing plant and product coal system, refurbished and expanded mine industrial area and associated new civil infrastructure.
